OLD PROJECT IS REVIVED IN COUNCIL.

Police Committee Instructed to Secure Estimates on Cost of a Tunnel Through

THE HILL TO THE EAST END.

Wheeling Railway Company Ordinance Withdrawn, Owing to Opposition of Councilmen.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the city council was held last night, at which one of the most important mess-ures introduced was the Waterhouse resolution instructing the police com-mittee, with the assistance of the city engineer, to investigate the matter of a tunnel through Wheeling hill from Tenth or Ninth streets to Baker street, East End. This is an old pro-ject born again, and it remains to be seen whether it is feasible or not. It is contemplated to work the city prison inmates on the construction.

In the first branch, the Wheeling

Railway Company withdrew its ordi-nance for a new South Side loop on Eoff and Forty-third and Forty-eighth streets, owing, it is said, to the violent opposition shown by some councilmen. There was no opposition to the ordi-nance in itself. The fight was for a specified twelve minute service on the north Island line. As matters have turned out the Islanders gain nothing, and the traveling public loses the conveniences and quicker service that would have resulted from the improvements contemplated by the company. The company stood ready to give the north Island people as frequent a ser-vice as the patronage would justify, but the latter stood out for twelve minutes, which the company was not in a position to guarantee.

Gas Board Appropriation.

An ordinance was presented, authorizing the gas board to expend in addition to the sum appropriated, $35,594 90, any excess over this sum out of its revany excess over this sum out of its revenues. It was explained by President Maxwell that the revenues and expenses are both greater than the amount named and the ordinance must be passed in order to make up the last pay roll of the year. Mr. Healy objected, but he received further enlightenment and withdrew his objection, whereupon the ordinance was passed unanimously. City Clerk O'Brien reported the board now has about $2,500 in addition to its estimated revenues.

To Abolish a Tramway. The board of public works submitted a resolution to do away with the Wheeling Steel & Iron Company's tramway on Twenty-sixth and Wood streets. The resolution provides that in the event the tramway is removed by the company it may be replaced whenever the needs of the company demand it. The resolution was passed.

To Clean the Streets Mr. Korn's resolution that the streets in the First ward be cleaned by the board of public works, was amended by Mr. Fitzsimmons to include all streets in the city.

To Use Natural Gas.
Emil Strohl's petition to use natural gas at his residence on McColloch street for illuminating, was favorably acted upon, as was the application of W. H. Gill, of 465 National road.

It was referred to the police committee and is as follows:
Whereas, the city is very much in need of a new city prison, and one in a location where prisoners can be kept at work, and as a tunnel from Baker street to connect with either Ninth or Tenth streets, would be of great benefit to the city, and furnish employment to city prisoners, and make the prisoners in a manner self supporting,
i therefore offer for your consideration
the following:
Resolved. That the city engineer be,

ARRANGE DEWEY DAY PARADE

Participation - The Police Court Room Well Filled With the Young Soldiers of the First and Second West Virginia and Fourth Immune Regiments-A General Committee of Nine - Company Meetings Called.

Last night, in the police court room city building, a meeting of mistered-out veterans of the Spanish-American war was held for the purpose of arranging for their division in the "Dewey Day" parade on Washington's Rirthday, February 22, 1900, when the Hero of Manila will be Wheeling's guest The meeting was very largely attended and quite enthusiastic. Representatives were present from the First West Vir Second West Virginia, Fourth Immunes and other regiments.
Captain Albert A. Franzheim, commanding Company F. Fourth Im-Sergeant G. C. Jansen, also an Immune boy, who had called the meeting, explained its objects. He said:

"No one, I venture to say, appreciates higher than you the valorous deeds and achievements of Dewey, his officers and brave men, on that memorable Maymorn in Manila bay, when his overwhelming victory over a mighty and aggressive foe added one of the most glorious pages to the nation's history.

"Recall the time when Dewey sailed into the bay of Manila and all the eyes of the nation turned thither in eager expectation. All hearts palpitated for the result. Now was our national prowess to be tested; now were we to ascertain whether we could cast back into the teeth of European generals and European diplomats the insults which they had heaped upon our fag. They said we had no military strength; that our navy was weak compared to the mighty armaments of Spain. Dewey disproved the allegations. The nows soon came flashing over the wire! ing, explained its objects. He said: soon came flashing over the wire:
'Have met the enemy and destroyed

his feet!

The nation's heart beat free and joy for the present and confidence in the future pervaded the land. Indeed it was a great and glorlous achievement, and in its moral effect both at home and abroad perhaps the most important of the war. Can too much honor be accorded Admiral Dewey, America's lilustrious son? Can there be named a greater hero, present or past, living or dead?

greater hero, present or past, living or dead?

"Dewey stands as the hero of the new era, sreater than all. We should turn out for Admiral Dewey, first. because it would be a symbol of our feelings toward him, a simple indication of the attachment which each one of us cherishes for him in our heart of hearts, and as the most fitting expression of our sentiments; and, second, because it would be a pleasant baisan for the wound which he suffered from unjust criticism of late. Criticism of Dewey should be trampled under foot by every American freeman. Let us but it to death by common consent. Third, because patriotic demonstrations invigorate and renew the love of country and fing. They kindle the spirit of fellowship and tend to further strengthen the arm of our government, and when required is easily born into an irresistible force, enabling our country to repulse any infringements of her rights or insuits against the Stars and Stripes.

"You, veterans, will, whenever called."

try to repulse any infringements of her rights or insuits against the Stars and Stripes.

"You, veterans, will, whenever called upon, sustain that fing of Stars and Stripes, now being rendered more glorious by our brave boys in the east, wherever it waves, over the land or over the sea, and we will raily around it, the fing of our fathers and our country, so long as a single star shall gilmmer from the surrounding darkness. We will cheer it as the emblem of a nation's glory and a nation's hope."

Major Cowden suggested that each veteran present give his name and present address to the secretary, so that if necessary each individual might be communicated with and kept in close touch with one another. This was done. Captain A. L. Hooten, late of Company K. First West Virginia, spoke of his efforts in securing the attendance of his company, and believed that nearly all the men would participate in the parade.

Captain Franzheim suggested that uniforms for the occasion be purchased and they would be useful on other occasions.

Chairman Franzheim appointed a uniforms for the occasion be purchased and they would be useful on other occasions.

Chairman Franzheim appointed a general committee of nine to arrange details for the Spanish-American war veterans' division of the parade, as follows: Major W. J. W. Cowden, chairman; W. C. Ziengenwelder, Company M., First West Virginia; Captain A. L. Hooten, Company K. First West Virginia; Captain R. H. D. Willis, Company D, Second West Virginia; Captain R. H. D. Willis, Company D, Second West Virginia; Bergeant G. C. Jansen, Company G, Fourth U. S. V.; Captain R. N. Humphrey, Company M, First West Virginia; First Lientenant C. E. Morris, secretary, Company D, Second West Virginia, Harry H, Bodley moved that a special meeting of Company G, Fourth U. S. V.; be held at the law office of Attorney G. C. Captain R. H. D. Willis moved that all members of Company D. Second West Virginia, attend a meeting of that company at the office of Lieutenant C. E. Morris, 1505 Chapline street, next Monday evening at 8 o'clook. The motion prevailed.

Major Cowden invited all veterans of other regiments than the First and Second West Virginia and Fourth Immunes to attend a meeting at his office, 1417 Chapline street, next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to make urrangements for their participation in the parade.

rangements for their participation in the parade.

The general committee will meet at a later date and arrange all details. A canvass will be made to ascertain how many of the boys have uniforms, and in all probability they will turn out uniformed and fully armed.

The participation of all the Spanish-American war veterans in the parade in a large body is assured.

THE WIFE OBJECTED

To Liquor and Other Women by Presenting Her Husband With a Bullet in the Leg-Then He Was Arrested

A revolver was used by a Benwood woman last night to express her disapproval of her husband's conduct in imbibling too freely of the cup that ine-

h briates and paying attention to other women. She presented him with a bullet in the leg. It caused a flesh wound, and he will recover. The couple lived in a shanty boas on the river front at Benwood, and rejoice in the cognomen of Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith.

Mr. Smith came home drunk last night about 10 click, and he proceeded to raise "rough house," when his wife remonstrated with him about keeping company with other women and acting generally in a loose manner. She climated with him about keeping company with other women and acting generally in a loose manner. She climated the right leg of her spouse below the knee, and came out on the other side, above the ankle. The wound was dressed at the Emergency hospital by Drs. Alley and Eskey, after which the police put Smith in the lock-top. He and his wife will have a hearing to-day.
